

Securities and Exchange Act B.E. 2535

Section 115. In operating the business of investment advisory service, a securities company shall comply with the rules, conditions and procedures as specified in the notification of the SEC. In this regard, the SEC may also specify fees of service charges which the securities company may charge its customers for performing investment advisory service.
